

Emotional Intelligence Awareness Month

INTELLIGENCE BEYOND NATURE

Teaching children about helpful and harmful emotional reactions.

This whimsical art creates an opportunity to help kids make sense of their feelings, rivalries, and reactions. Discuss how impossible this scene is in the animal kingdom. Explain how it is possible and important for kids to develop greater control of their feelings. Encourage kids to color the picture and count the hidden hearts. Perhaps frame their finished art and place where visible daily to help remind kids to be careful how they react to natural feelings.

October 2008

2000 – 2010 Named Decade of Behavior by the American Psychological Association

This Awareness Campaign is an international effort organized by the Emotional Intelligence Institute (EII), a non-profit organization. * Heart count at e-ii.org web-site.
